

Jay Kimbrough

I have been involved with NACADA since 1998. During the past eleven years I have had the opportunity to attend many of the regional conferences and most of the national conferences.

I have been active in encouraging other advisors on my campus to become members of NACADA.

I have worked as a volunteer at all of the national conferences I have attended. In 2005 I was nominated for the NACADA Advisor of the Year award, Academic Advising-Primary Role.

I started working as a volunteer Academic Advisor on a part-time basis in 1998; in 2001 I became a full-time Academic Advisor. Since assuming that role, I have been active in advising and Advisor training here at Columbus State University. In 2005 I was instrumental in opening the Center for Academic Advising.

I plan on starting an EDD in Educational Leadership in 2010. I intend on continuing in my role of Academic Advisor as opposed to moving into administration because I feel that is where I can best serve college students.

If elected, I will try to increase membership in Georgia and encourage greater participation by our members on a state, regional, and national level.
