1. Expand and communicate the scholarship of academic advising	This community will contribute at least 1 research brief this year.	One or more of the steering committee members will take on this area. Through zoom meetings and online discussions, a group will be requested to come together for the purpose of writing a research brief.	The completion of this goal will be marked when a research brief is created.	Working closely with steering committee and the NACADA resources and Wendy Troxel to ensure members feel supported.	The challenge would be low interest in joining. If this occurs another email will be sent asking for a final time. If still no one is interested then I need to re-evaluate what the goals of the group are.

1. Expand and communicate the scholarship of academic advising	This community will form a writing group to help those interested in pursuing academic work but may be intimidated.	One or more of the steering committee members will take on this area. Through zoom meetings and online discussions, a group will be requested to come together to talk about how to get started.	An active writing group with attendance and meeting data will be one measure. Also, qualitative feedback from the members in the group via survey to ensure it was useful.	Working closely with steering committee and the NACADA resources and Wendy Troxel to ensure members feel supported.	The challenge would be low interest in joining. If this occurs another email will be sent asking for a final time. If still no one is interested, then I need to re-evaluate what the goals of the group are.
2. Provide professional development opportunities that are responsive to the needs of advisors and advising administrators	This community will host at least 3 lunch and learns throughout the year.	One or more of the steering committee members will take on this area. Topics will be chosen by the steering committee and date and time will be set. The group will use Zoom in order to have open discussions about important issues.	Attendance data as well as qualitative feedback from the members in the group via survey to ensure it was useful.	Working with other groups and my cluster rep who effectively do these now for tips and best practices. Working with the EO to set up Zoom meetings.	The challenge would be low attendance. If that is the case, we will analyze possible solutions. Perhaps it is the time of the event, the topic or the medium. We will send out a call to members to enquire why participation is low.
7. Expand the use of innovative technology tools and resources to support the work of the Association.	This community will use Zoom, Facebook, and Email, to connect members. I would also like to explore the benefits of GroupMe and Slack if members are interested. Especially for steering committee.	One or more of the steering committee members will take on this area. These platforms will be used to deliver the above goals.	Engagement on the different platforms will be measured. As this is the first time we will be using any of these technologies, we will use the data as a benchmark for future.	Working with other groups and my cluster rep who effectively do these now for tips and best practices.	The challenge will be getting all members to use the technology. It is important to keep feedback channels open so if tech is providing a barrier we can adjust.
