

NACADA Annual Conference Advisory Board

Goals

Provide an exciting and stimulating Annual Conference

Provide networking opportunities and professional development

Provide an opportunity for members to share the best practices of their institutions

Provide an opportunity for attendees to gain knowledge and insight into current trends and issues in the field

Provide an opportunity for attendees to regain the momentum of being successful in the advising field

Questions & Answers

- What is the role of the Annual Conference?
 - To provide a reliable and consistently high quality program that supports the needs of persons involved in Academic Advising
 - To provide an opportunity for networking among persons related to the Academic Advising field
- How does the Annual Conference meet the needs of the association?
 - Serves as a model for fostering important relationships between administrators, faculty, advisors, and NACADA
 - Provides funds to sustain the Annual Conference and support to the NACADA Executive Office
- How does the Annual Conference meet the needs of the NACADA membership?
 - Provides a high quality professional development opportunity
 - Provides an opportunity for institutions to present their best practices with others
 - Provides members the opportunity to be engaged throughout the year gaining skills and knowledge to be shared at the Annual Conference
- What do we want participants to leave with after attending the Annual Conference?
 - Renewed sense of the value of their positions
 - Knowledge of current best practices
 - Ideas to implement on their own campuses
 - A networking base of colleagues