STRATEGIC GOAL #5: Provide practices that allow members to identify and cultivate their long-term professional development and engagement with the association.	Community members will more easily be able to access materials and networks that are directly relevant to their advising practice.	Develop a curated list of resources focused specifically on faculty advising, including interaction with primary-role advisors as colleagues and as supervisors.	We will measure the number of items/other resources generated, the number of accessions of the list, and the number of contributors to the list's development	Potential collaborators include the Advising Administration, Advisor Training and Development, and the Well-being and Advisor retention communities	A long term issue for our community is sustainability, and that continues to be an issue for all of our initiatives. This year, we do have volunteers interested in developing this project and setting up a sustainable structure for continuity and updates.
