Provide professional development opportunities that are responsive to the needs of advisors and advising administrators	TPHAC members will participate in TPH Webcast series by attending or presenting.	Hold at least two events each semester, excluding summer	Count of brownbag events that occurred and number of participants at each event.	Will need help from EO and steering committee to set up zoom room and select brownbag presenter and dates.	When issues arise, I will reach out to EO, Steering Committee, and AC reps for guidance as needed.	We held one event each semester, and each event was well attended.	Each event had approximately 30 participants. It would be helpful to take attendance so that we can know whether we are attracting new participants and whether we previous participants are returning

Expand and communicate the scholarship of academic advising	NACADA Members will engage in the production and consumption of scholarship related to Theory, Philosophy, and History	Pilot short format videos about advising Theory, Philosophy, and History that will be posted on YouTube and/or the NACADA Website.	Videos are produced and posted online.	Nathan Raugutt has offered to take the lead on this. We may also need support from EO	Finding people to “star” in our videos.	These videos were not produced	There seems to be an appetite for this material. Unexpected events transpired that prevented this goal from being accomplished. In the future it might be helpful to have a committee of people working on this if TPHAC decides to attempt this in the future.
