Hello and welcome to the December edition of the Well-Being & Advisor Retention newsletter! The end of the year is in sight; I hope you are able to rest and recuperate soon.

Upcoming Events

Resource/Article Spotlight

Stay connected to us

Upcoming Events/Opportunities

- Mark the first Friday off on your calendar from 1PM - 2PM Central Time for Feel Good Fridays beginning in January! January will be an informal opportunity to talk and share with other advising colleagues. Want to join us? Sign up here.
- The Well-Being & Advisor Retention AC will be hosting a podcast series beginning in January! We'll be taking over NACADA Presents with six episodes. Make sure to listen along. And if you haven't listened to the series by the First Generation Students AC, have a listen - it's really interesting!
- Check out the Call for Authors for the International Perspectives book. Nominations are being accepted through January 2, 2022. Check out the link for more information.
- NACADA is also seeking volunteers to review The New Advisor Guidebook: Mastering the Art of Academic Advising, 2nd Edition. Interested in volunteering, contact Ashley Thomas (ashleythomas@ksu.edu) by February 1, 2022.

Resource/Article Highlight

- Many of us are back on campus, and there was a lot of discussion about student mental health before the collective trauma that the COVID-19 pandemic brought. This article was also helpful in thinking of little things that we can do to help students: 'Heart-Pounding' Conversations: Professors Are Being Trained to Spot Signs of Mental-Health Distress.
- Want more resources? Check out our list and feel free to add your own!

Stay connected to us

- Join our Facebook group.

Warmly,
Kacey