NACADA Conference Highlights

Thank you to everyone that joined us for NACADA 2021 Annual Conference: Together, All Things are Possible. We enjoyed getting to see some familiar faces and a few new ones at our business meeting.

At our annual conference, we had two excellent sessions sponsored by our advising community. The first session was Virtual Pivot presented by John Blaine and Kayla Powell from the University of Kentucky. The second session was a Panel Discussion: Best Practices in Supporting High-Achieving and Multipotential Students ‘In Trouble’ or On Probation presented by Anna Traykova from Kennesaw State University, Rachel Armstrong-Ceron from University of Michigan, and Ginny Walters from Minnesota State University. Read more about the panel presenters and useful resources here.

Interested in learning about how to craft a successful conference proposal? Not sure where to start? Learn more from our expert panel organizer, Anna Traykova, by watching this video.

Upcoming Community Events

Conference Proposal 101: Writing a Winning Conference Proposal

December 7th at 12:00 PM CT

Are you interested in submitting a proposal for a future conference but are unsure how to get started? Not sure what to include or the steps to submit your proposal? Join us as we share tips on taking your idea from start to finish to get your proposal accepted for presentation. All members are welcome!

Register here.
Join A New Subcommittee!

The Advising High Achieving Students Community is creating three subcommittees to provide leadership opportunities and professional development for more members of the community. First meetings will take place in early January 2022. Watch your email for more details.

1. Community definition and communication: Join this community if you are interested in looking at the current definition of high achieving students and discuss ways to share this community with those in advising across NACADA.

2. Resource Repository: Join this community if you are interested in helping to locate, catalog, and organize a new resource repository that focuses on high achieving students.

3. Programming: Join this community if you are interested in assisting with programming and events hosted by this community.

---

Spring Semester #nerdybynature Community Chats

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2ND
12:00-12:45 PM CT

FRIDAY, APRIL 1ST
12:00-12:45 PM CT

TUESDAY, MAY 24TH
12:00-12:45 PM CT

Reminders & Resources

If you have not done so, please complete this member survey.

Check out the Advising High Achieving Students Community’s Resource Repository.

---

News from NACADA

Attend a 2022 Region Conference! Registration now open. Early registration is $155 for NACADA members. Click here for information.

Present at a 2022 Region Conference! Submit your proposal today here. Deadlines for the Call for Proposals for preconference workshops, posters, and concurrent sessions are:

- Wednesday, November 17 for conferences in February and March
- Wednesday, December 15 for conferences in April and May

Read for NACADA Global Awards! If you are interested in helping review the work of your peers, please complete this form. The deadline to sign up is March 10, 2022. Our first round of readers will be needed around mid-December through mid-January.