How are you feeling after over a year working remote/hybrid?

What were your three biggest challenges over the past year and how did you overcome those obstacles?

How did you create community remotely with your team? How was this received?

What are your institutional plans for the Fall 2021? What lessons from the past year are being used (if any) to help with next semester/term/quarter?

What advice do you have for current/future advising professionals dealing with a crisis?
