Campus Collaborations

Join this interactive session to discuss how Advising Administrators work to create collaborative relationships and structures within and across their institution. You will hear presenters talk about the successes and struggles for collaboration on their campuses, working within institutional culture, the importance of collaboration in achieving student success outcomes, and strategies for managing all of it. You will also learn about the leadership practices that lead to effective collaboration.

Learning Outcomes - Participants will:
- Identify the structures, opportunities, and challenges in creating campus collaborations.
- Share strategies for developing campus collaborations.
- Understand research-based student success outcomes of collaboration.
- Explore leadership practices that enhance collaborative work.
- Discuss in groups how student and participant experiences on campus could be shaped through different collaboration strategy.
