The conference committee is seeking proposals that will demonstrate innovative ideas for best practices, engage in scholarly research, and network with colleagues from all over the world. NACADA: The Global Community for Academic Advising continues to be the premier conference for advising professionals to learn from each other as well as from top scholars and researchers in the field. NACADA is the leader in providing valuable education, leadership, and networking opportunities for advising professionals.

This year’s theme, No Student is an Island: The Rich Port of Advising and Connection, expresses the idea that we are not just one individual faculty member, staff member, or administrator, but that we are part of a greater whole that brings different contributions to our world. Dear Colleagues,

- Due to budgetary considerations, it is not possible to offer either an honorarium or a waiver of registration fees to presenters.
- All presenters and co-presenters must register for the conference and pay the appropriate fee.
- When applicable: Presentation includes issues of equity, inclusion, and/or diversity
- Reflective of good writing practices

Who Should Submit a Proposal Application?

- Forward thinkers, we want to hear from you as well! Proposals are also welcomed if you have research results to share. Remember that professional development is important on our campuses.
- Part of your proposal should address how your session will be relevant to a wide demographic of members. Without your sharing and participation, the profession of academic advising cannot continue to grow its impact and be relevant to a wide demographic of members.
- In-depth, interactive, value-added presentations that can vary from two to four hours in length. Participants pay an extra fee for workshops and expect tangible takeaways.

When preparing your proposal:

- Presentation titles should be descriptive of the content of the session. They need not be limited to length. Audience input and questions.

I continue to look forward to any opportunities to make a contribution to the NACADA experience of preparing has been great for keeping my skills and knowledge current.

Conference each year for the past few years. It has always been a great experience! The Conference in San Juan, Puerto Rico. If you're on the fence about submitting a proposal, don't be! We need YOU!

Scott Hosford, Health and Wellness

Presenting at the NACADA Annual Conference is a great experience. Crafting the experience of preparing has been great for keeping my skills and knowledge current.

Erica Johnson

I've been fortunate to have had the opportunity to present at the NACADA Annual Conference, when we were finished presenting, an audience member came up and told us, "I've learned so much from you, thank you!"
