

NACADA Conference 2018 – The Guinness Storehouse Experience

The NACADA Conference in Dublin is fast approaching, and what better way to immerse yourself in the Dublin experience than taking a tour of the Guinness Storehouse?

We're offering a full tour, plus dinner and a complimentary pint of the black stuff for just $45 (€38) on the night of July 18th (Wednesday) at 7.30pm.

The Guinness Storehouse is located in the legendary St. James's Gate Brewery in Dublin, which has been home to the Guinness Brewery since 1759, when Arthur Guinness signed a lease for 9,000 years (yes, 9,000 – which means there's a good 8,741 years left to go!).

The Guinness Storehouse building itself dates back to 1904; it was once the fermentation plant of the brewery and is now a seven-storey visitor experience dedicated to the history of the making of this world famous stout.

Here, you can experience Guinness like nowhere else. As you make your way through the impressive storehouse, discover the age-old art of brewing that makes Guinness so distinctive; visit the Tasting rooms, a multisensory tasting experience designed to help you appreciate the distinctive taste of the iconic stout, from the very first velvet sip to the last lingering drop. You can even learn how to pour the perfect pint in the Guinness Academy!

Don't miss out on this unique opportunity to visit one of the highlights of any visit to Dublin – tickets can be purchased when registering for the conference, or at any stage during the conference.
